

CAPITAL VS. THE PEOPLE.

The general proposition that wealth or capital shall rule or individual manhood majority, has been discussed so often and thoroughly that but little new can be said or written upon the subject. That the American Republic was based upon the principle of individual and not capitalistic majority rule, is too plainly expressed in the federal constitution to admit of any question. That this principle has been too often reversed in national matters is as true as it is lamentable.

But to come down to home matters. In 1896 more than two-thirds of the people of Reno voted for the incorporation of the town, and more than nine-tenths in favor of a proposition which was impossible without a municipal government. Last November the voters reiterated their desire for a city government and purchased wholesome water by re-electing by large majorities all of the old members of the Council, with but a single exception, where the old member declined to become a candidate.

A short time ago a petition signed by 180 persons was sent to the Washoe delegation at Carson, asking for the passage of a bill disincorporating the city of Reno. Of course the prime movers in the matter were the officers of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, and, after several days' most strenuous efforts, they succeeded in securing a considerably less number of names than voted against incorporation in 1896 and 1898. The petition was received by the Washoe delegation and a bill prepared by the Water Company's attorney was introduced, supported by Washoe's entire delegation, passed both houses, and is now in the hands of the Governor for his approval or rejection.

In the Senate the assertion was made that the 180 names on the petition represent nine-tenths of the property interests in the city of Reno. As a matter of fact, the assessment roll will show that they do not represent one-half, probably not one-third, and possibly not one-fourth of the $1,700,000, which is the assessed valuation of all of the property within the city limits.

But the property proportion is not the question. If the legislative reports are correct, our Senator made the most astounding assertion to the effect that those who paid the heaviest taxes were the only ones to be considered in a matter which involved the expenditure of money for public improvements. If this is a correct doctrine, the quicker we abolish the ballot box, the more speedily will we set ourselves right by striking out from our federal constitution that part which grants to every citizen equal voice and right in all matters pertaining to the management of all of the affairs of government.

In the matter of incorporation or disincorporation, every man, woman and child in Reno is directly interested, and the poorer even to a greater extent than the richer. It is a pretty safe bet that three-fourths of the property owners who signed the water company's petition have their drinking water hauled from streams and wells outside the city limits, as does the State University, where the students are admonished not to drink water from the city pipes. There are hundreds of householders, small taxpayers, who cannot afford to have their water hauled, but are compelled to pay for it to use for drinking the impure fluid furnished by the water company, and to which a number of our physicians do not hesitate to attribute a large proportion of the sickness in the city. Is it right for a wealthy corporation to receive greater consideration from the Legislature than five times the number of voters and twenty times the number of people it can control? When incorporation or disincorporation is considered from a sanitary standpoint, have a few persons who can afford to avoid the use of unwholesome water the right to force it upon their poorer neighbors, whose lives and health and that of their children are perhaps as precious to them as are the same conditions to the wealthier persons who, while evading danger in their own families, compel the less fortunate ones to encounter it in theirs? If this is just, then the Washoe delegation was right in securing the passage of the bill, and Governor Sedler would be justifiable in affixing to it his approving signature.

This Gazette has queer views about law making. It claims that a bill becomes a law if once signed by the Governor even if the Chief Executive changes his mind and withdraws his signature while it is yet in his hands. A bill cannot become a law until it is returned to the branch of the legislature from which it emanated and the message with its import is entered on the journal of that house. There have probably been fifty cases of the kind the Gazette refers to, since Nevada was admitted as a State. In this case, however, there was a change made in the title of the bill after it had been signed by the Governor, which would make the withdrawal of his signature legal beyond all possible question, for when returned to him it was not the same bill that he had previously signed.

Floods in Kentucky and Virginia.
While it is very dry in California and western Nevada rain is plentiful in Virginia and Kentucky. The lumbering interests of these States have sustained loss by booms breaking and turning loose logs containing millions of feet of lumber. Towns and houses along the river banks are flooded. In many places the chimneys are all that can be seen of many houses. Much discomfort and suffering by the people of the flooded districts is experienced.

Tough on the Old Folks.
There is a story going the rounds that a Winnemucca young man advertised for a wife under an assumed name and his sister answered it under an assumed name. Then photographs were exchanged and the sister felt so humiliated that she told her mother. The old lady broke the news to papa, who yawned and remarked: "Mother, it's pretty hard to have two fools in one family."

William Black's Character.
Sir Wemyss Reid notes that William Black seldom allowed himself to be drawn into conversation about his work. One of Reid's recollections runs thus: "One day in the far off past, I was walking along the sea front with Black at Brighton, when he said abruptly and with reference to nothing that had been passing between us: 'We are not all engaged in running away with other men's wives. There are some of us who are not the victims of mental disease or moral deformity. I do not even know that anybody of my acquaintance has committed a murder or a forgery. Yet people are angry with me because I do not make my characters in my books odious in this fashion. I prefer to write about sane people and honest people, and I imagine that they are, after all, in a majority in the world.'"

Some Went to Glory.
I once asked a district nurse, says a writer in The Cornhill Magazine, how the various sick cases had been going on during my absence from the parish. At once the look which I knew so well crossed her face, but her natural professional pride strove for the mastery with the dueunctuousness which she considered necessary for the occasion. At last she evolved the following strange mixture. "Middling well, sir; some of 'em's gone straight to glory, but I am glad to say others are nicely on the mend."

Starting Him Right.
"Ah!" sighed the sentimental youth. "Would that I might install a sentiment in your loyal heart!"

Distinctions.
"Did our friend retire from politics?"
"Well," answered the practical worker, "it wasn't what you'd call a 'retire.' It was a knockout."—Washington Star.

Too Much of It.
A high army officer whose fad was ventilation was one day making an inspection of a frontier post which was much in need of repair. In some places the roof showed the blue sky overhead and the walls were ornamented with gaps.

The brigadier general was escorted through the building by the colonel in charge, a sergeant going on before, as is the custom, to warn the men to stand attention in honor of the general.

As they proceeded the general asked: "And how is the ventilation, colonel?"
Before the colonel could reply the old sergeant, with a familiarity born of long service, said:
"Sure, general, and the ventilation is bad, sorr, verra bad, sorr. The place is all full of holes, sorr."—Detroit Free Press.

Her Opinion.
"Mandy," said Farmer Cornetossel, who had been reading the back pages of a magazine, "ef a cannon ball goin at the rate of 60 miles an hour was shot from the back of a train goin 60 miles an hour, where would the cannon ball light?"
"I dunno exactly where 'twould light," she answered, "but I kin prophesy that it 'ud do a lot o' damage. It couldn't hit nowhere without hurtin a lot o' people that was standin around without anything better to do than speckle-ate on jes' each doin's."

"Somehow I'm awfully stupid to night," remarked young Borum languidly the other evening.
"Indeed you are," retorted Miss Cutting, somewhat impulsively.
"Do you really mean that?" asked the young man in surprise.
"I merely indorsed your remarks. Didn't you just now assert that you were stupid?" she queried.
"Yes," he responded, "but I only said so without thinking."
"And up to the time you spoke of it," she replied, "I only thought so without saying it."—Pearson's Weekly.

Famous Woman Portrait Painter.
Women alone considered, Elizabeth Gardner, long the pupil of Bouguereau and now his wife, is perhaps the greatest figure painter America has thus far brought forth. Born in New Hampshire, she went in 1878 to Paris, where some years ago her painting, "Innocence," won for her the gold medal of the Salon. Her style follows closely that of her husband and master. She composes with skill, models with delicacy and colors with an even, agreeable but not brilliant palette. Her young children are always lovely and appealing straight to every mother's heart.—Dem.

Railroad Talk.

The Alturas New Era contains the following:

J. M. Fulton, general manager of the N. C. O., continues to push work on that road; he continues to buy horses and mules and put every man to work who applies for a job and we have heard it said that he intends to put on a crew of from 1,500 to 2,000 men. We heard one of our leading business men say this week that he would gamble that road would reach Alturas by August. A number of Alturas and likely boys have gone out to work on it and all have obtained employment.

The Yreka Journal thinks that because of the Squaw Valley road pushing this way is the cause of the rush of the N. C. O., and our northern exchanges say the fact of the Oregon Short Line coming this way is the cause of the rush.

At any rate, we are now bound to have a railroad soon, and the prospects of three to come, and few people seem to realize what this really means to Modoc county.

Vote on Assembly Bill No. 51.

The vote in the Assembly upon Assembly bill No. 51, entitled "An act to regulate the duties of common carriers to its officers, agents or employees regarding the charges for transportation of merchandise," was as follows:

Yeas—Deady, Dooley, Gadeney, Hobbs, McMillan, Meacham, Fatsy, Paul, Spindel, Rafties, Van Etten, Wilkerson—12.

Nays—Armstrong, Blackeslee, Bradshaw, Condon, Gillespie, Hancock, Henley, Hodgkinson, Kinney, Ledy, McGowan, Patterson, Strodsider, Tra-mon, Speaker Allen—15.

Absent—Kirman, Pitt and Coryell.

The bill provided against railroads wilfully taking merchandise beyond its proper destination for the purpose of making charges for such unnecessary haul, and which has proved and is still proving such a burden upon the people of this State. The above vote may prove valuable for future reference.

Wheelmen's Minstrels.

As a rule theater-going people expect too much of an amateur performance.

The Reno Wheelmen's minstrels, fully conscious of this fact, hope to give all who attend their performance a show worthy the name of a first class minstrel organization. The costumes, stage setting, and novelty first part, with grand electric and calcium light effects will be in themselves features worth the price of admission.

This organization is no brass band extravaganza; they have no private cars and no high salaried artists; but the boys expect to keep up the reputation of the Wheelmen as entertainers, and will be at their best March 17th.
Secure your seats early, for all indications point toward a packed house.

The Deadly Grip.

It is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germ! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and Consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups.

Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germ, heals the lungs and prevent the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cent and $1.00 Money back if not cured. A trial

Store.

Carlier yesterday to be examined for insanity. The poor old man is 88 years of age and is probably the oldest Mason in the State, having taken the degree when he was 21 years of age.
Sometime over a year ago he went to Texas to spend his last days with his relatives there. He became homesick for Nevada, however, and a few months ago returned to the land and friends he loved. It is to be hoped that his few remaining days will be made as comfortable as possible and that the end will be peaceful and serene.

rible malady. I am gratefully yours

The editor of the Lovelock Tribune, in a hypercritical mood, undertakes to instruct the students of the State University in the use of the mother tongue. If the students had in their possession some of the literary productions of the said editor, which would long ere this have been classic had not a cold, unappreciative world planted a vulgar pair of feet upon them, they would soon be able to speak and write English "as she is spoke."

When a country editor of pea-gun calibre undertakes the role of literary critic with the ideas that his efforts will awe his readers into the delusion that he is a scholar of wide and diversified knowledge he errs most grievously.
Even the most illiterate reader of his journal will pause and exclaim (in effect) "Why is it, if this editor is such a learned man, that he abides with us, afar from educational centers where genius receives its merited reward?"

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children when teething. It cures colic, cures and breaks up your baby's colic and crying with pain of cutting teeth, and at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winsow's Soothing Syrup for children teething.
It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it. Mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation and gives the baby and Energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winsow's Soothing Syrup."

His Golden Opportunity.

Governor Sadler can win the everlasting gratitude of seven-eighths of the people of Reno by vetoing the disin-corporation act. If he is posted in regard to the feeling here and believes in legislation for the people instead of corporations, he will affix his gubernatorial signature under a great big NOT APPROVED in letters as large as the head line of a circus poster.
